

Harper College Distance Learning Orientation

Learning Online: Student Stories

Advice from a Successful Student

Take advantage of the best thing about online courses...no restricted class time, no opening or closing hours.

What I have found myself doing is working on the assignments, labs, and discussion boards little by little, any time, any day. I just chip away.

If I have a free moment, a lunch hour, late at night, early in the morning, even a few stolen minutes, I just log on and do a little bit.

It is such an advantage to have access to the materials, the instructor, your classmates at any time. Feedback is fast and it's really much better than waiting for one class time during the week.

Use the advantage, the classroom is open 24/7!